

I have found that KLOVE is the only radio station anywhere that when the DJ's speak there is no adult innuendos. I enjoy listening to the radio while I work and my 8 year old daughter enjoys the radio. However, if you remove KLOVE from the airwave, I will not have a radiostation that my family can listen to. Most DJ's aren't as obviously crude as Howard Stern but they make just mean comments toward each other and some of the stunts the make the staff do is not something I want my child to learn.
